The researcher sends his research to journal website electronically.

The head of journal send research for two scientific reviewers.

The head of journal send research to an Arabic language reviewer and English language reviewer.

The Arabic and English language reviewers send their notes to be arranged.

The second reviewer sends his notes and the journal manager notify the researcher.

The first reviewer sends his notes and the journal manager notify the researcher about it.

The researcher arranges his research according to notes and resend the arranged research to the journal.

The head of journal check the research according to notes and if the researcher committed to the conditions, he will be notifying of research publishing.

The team work of journal revised the research according to the journal form.

The research take queue and been numbered and given Doi link.

The research published in the journal according to work sequence of journal and OJS for scientific journals.